NISLT HOSTS FMIST 2025 SECOND QUARTER MINISTERIAL SERVICOM STAKEHOLDERS MEETING, EARNS COMMENDATIONS FOR EXEMPLARY LEADERSHIP AND SERVICE DELIVERY

Angela Eddy-Hyacinth, Ibadan, Oyo State – June 17, 2025

The Nigerian Institute of Science Laboratory Technology (NISLT), located at Samonda Sango-UI Road, Ibadan, successfully hosted the 2025 Second Quarter Stakeholders Meeting of the Ministerial SERVICOM Committee (MSC)

under the Federal Ministry of Innovation, Science and Technology (FMIST). The event drew participants from various MDAs, regulatory agencies, and SERVICOM units under the Ministry. Delivering the goodwill address, Dr. Peter Adefisoye Oluwafisoye, the Overseeing Director and Director of Education, Training and Inspectorate at NISLT, welcomed participants and reaffirmed the Institute's unwavering commitment to excellence in public service delivery. He emphasized the role of SERVICOM not just as a reform tool but as a national ethos grounded in transparency, timeliness, equity, and accountability.

Dr. Oluwafisoye highlighted the strategic reforms already implemented at NISLT to align with the SERVICOM Charter, including: Adoption of a revised operational Service Charter, expanded training and sensitization on service standards, Strengthened complaint and feedback mechanisms and Upgrades in laboratory accreditation, professional certification, and client interfaces.

He acknowledged the leadership of the Honourable Minister, Chief Uche Geoffrey Nnaji, and the Permanent Secretary, Mrs. Esuabana Nko-Asanye, for approving NISLT as host and for their tireless support of service delivery reforms within the Ministry. Dr. Oluwafisoye also paid tribute to past leaders of the Institute and praised staff for their unwavering support since his assumption of office.

The meeting featured a facilities inspection led by Mrs. Emma D. Ekpo, Deputy Director, Reforms Coordination, Service Improvement and Innovation (FMIST), who commended the Institute for maintaining high service standards. She lauded Dr. Oluwafisoye's leadership for effectively coordinating staff and resources, describing the inspection team's findings as highly impressive. Also present at the high-level meeting were; Mrs. Justina Ojukwu, Nodal Officer, SERVICOM Unit FMIST, Mr. Sesugh Durub, Representative of the National Coordinator, SERVICOM, Mr. Lawrence Itsuokor, SERVICOM Information Technology Officer and Mr. Mohammed Sani Ladan, SERVICOM Official. All expressed satisfaction with NISLT's proactive implementation of SERVICOM ideals and praised the Institute's strategic reforms and stakeholder engagement. During the event, Mr. Morris, NISLT SERVICOM Focal Officer, received an award for outstanding service, while Dr. Oluwafisoye was decorated by the National SERVICOM Office in recognition of his exemplary leadership.

Key NISLT management staff in attendance included S. Peter Olaiya (DFA), Dr. Adebola Odeseeye (Head of Laboratory Services), Mr Musa Ibrahim Head Human Resources Management, Mrs. Olusola Odu (Deputy Director, representing Director of PRD Mr Pius Ikokoh), and Mrs Simiat Olubajo-Ajibola Deputy Director of Audit, Mrs Abiola OKunlade DD Statistics, and Mrs Idowu Stella DD Registry.

Participants were also educated on critical administrative procedures in the Public Service, including recruitment, performance management, grievance handling, and ethical conduct, with emphasis on disciplinary measures and accountability frameworks.

In conclusion, Dr. Oluwafisoye reaffirmed NISLT's resolve to serve as a model of SERVICOM compliance and a benchmark for innovation in public service. He pledged continued alignment with the Renewed Hope Agenda of President Asiwaju Bola Ahmed Tinubu, GCFR, and expressed hope that the resolutions from the meeting would drive further improvement across MDAs within the Ministry.

He wished all attendees successful deliberations and safe journeys back to their respective destinations.
